BEST TIME TO SHOOT

The best time for your newborn to be photographed is when they are 5 — 15 days old!

This is the golden period where they can be comfortably swaddled and curled up into that “in the womb” position for intricate pictures.

If your baby is more than 15 days old, not to worry — we can still capture a variety of newborn-esque poses – babies can be photographed up until they are 6 months old.

When they are around that age, we are also able to grab more expressions and dynamic poses!

If there are older siblings coming along, do bring their favourite snacks or toys to keep them entertained!

IT'S A WRAP!

We provide a complimentary selection of blankets, wraps, and baskets when you book a newborn shoot with us.

Our photographers are also skilled in soothing and swaddling newborn babies, so just sit back, relax, and we'll take care of the rest!

A DIFFERENT KIND OF SHOT

Take note if your baby has any upcoming immunisation appointments. They are more prone to being fussy and sensitive during and after these periods, so it is best to schedule a shoot before their jabs.

Do bring an extra change of clothes for everybody (yes, mum and dad too) for a variety of shots! Dress the newborn in clothes that fit just right, so that baby doesn't get lost in the fabrics.

It is completely fine if your baby does not cooperate and the photo session does not turn out the way you expect it to be!

Babies do tend to cry due to being in a new environment, and you'll be surprised by the success of shoots we do even when baby is crying most of the time, so leave it in the good hands of your photographer.

We understand that raising a newborn is hard work. White Room Studio photographers are parents themselves, and they understand the challenges new parents go through!

If the baby becomes restless & difficult to soothe mid-session, we are happy to offer you a complimentary 1-hour reshoot on another date, at no additional charge.

HOW TO PREPARE

It is a MUST to bring along your milk & diaper bag with all the essentials! We can't stress enough the importance of giving your newborn a full feed (which can take up to 45-60 minutes) just before you leave home for the photo studio.

This way, you will have lots of time to enjoy the 2-hour photoshoot, and only need to give baby top-up feeds in between change of settings.

Parents may be worried about keeping the baby's feeding schedule to a fixed timing, but just for this special day of the photoshoot, a fully fed baby actually helps toward making the shoot a success.

If the baby is fed well, they are more likely enter deep sleep, which makes posing them so much easier!

WHAT TO BRING

WHAT TO BRING

PETS

White Room Studio is pet-friendly! Your fur kids are part of your family too, so bring them along to complete your family portrait.

Our studio is full of natural light, warm and cosy — just how they like it!

PROPS

If there is a favourite hat, hairband, mittens or blankets knitted by mum, or heirloom clothing kept by grandparents, bring these along for the newborn photoshoot!

They will make such a meaningful prop for the photoshoot, instead of generic items.

If you wish to bring a few items with you, do inform our studio's team ahead of time so we can creatively plan your photoshoot around your props.

Colour coordination is an important aspect of portraiture, especially for group photo sessions. As a general rule, earthy and pastel colours work best together.

By picking the right patterns and tones, you can let the personalities of each family member shine through. If you want to keep it simple, here are some tried and tested options!

NATURAL IN NEUTRALS

We will also capture beautiful casual family shots during your newborn's photoshoot.

A white top paired with soft, neutral-coloured bottoms is a timeless combination that will never go out of style for every family.

WHAT TO WEAR

Key tip: Make sure everyone wears a range of different secondary colours to keep it visually interesting. Pair soft blues or lavender with browns/grey, or similar pastel shades of various textures.

Instead of matching outfits in the same tone and colour, let your loved ones each wear pops of pastel in different colours! If the tones are muted and soft, mixing different colours work!

This will complement the entire family perfectly and everyone will look cohesive, which is exactly the effect you want when taking a group portrait.

COLOURFUL & CHIC

Colours are loads of fun! Just take care with how you mix and match between family members!

Muted colours are fail-proof options and give a softer feel to portraits. Think pastels, earthy brick red, mustard yellow, light olive green, sky blue, instead of strong solid colours.

CLASSIC & COOL

Darker colours — black, navy blue, dark green, a deep red or purple — are bold choices that show up well on photographs.

Do take note that if you're going for a neutral palette, everyone should wear them together for the best effect.

If you wish to stick to a single colour but worry if it might look boring, you can choose pieces that carry more textures e.g. lace, silk, corduroy, or knit!

The best time to play dressup is when your baby is fast asleep! Get creative with quirky onesies or matching mini jerseys.

The possibilities are endless. Customise your photoshoot the way you like as a family and make it truly yours.

NOT WHAT TO WEAR

There are no hard rules on what not to wear, but here are some tried and tested tips to make sure the photoshoot meets your expectations.

Generally, it's better to stay away from:

- Polo shirts and hoodies
- Checkered patterns
- Neon colours
- Loud, big logos
- Large floral patterns
- Shiny, reflective textures
- Too many accessories
- Spectacles with tinted or transition lenses
- Clothes that are too loose, too tight or too thick
- Colourful undergarments (nude tones are best)

We recommend you to pick outfits in colours that complement your skin tone. Pastel colours like lilac or richer, warmer colours will go well with darker complexions.

Lighter, cooler skin tones will suit colours that bring contrast, such as jewel colours (a saturated red, blue, green, yellow).

FOOTWEAR

Appropriate shoes for each outfit are very important, especially during a photoshoot! Footwear can make or break an outfit and it is also the quickest way to make an impression.

As a rule of thumb, avoid open-toe footwear such as slippers or sandals. Go for dress shoes, sneakers, or boots.

Remember, it depends on the theme as well. Sneakers are the default choices for casual streetwear, while heels and a nice pair of loafers/oxfords are preferred for smart casual and formal occasions. Comfort is key — your shoes should not hurt too much!

For the gentlemen, always match your socks with your shoes! High socks with a suit is most presentable.

Ladies — heels can change your height when you pose with another family member. Do wear something you can easily remove and put on if need be.

HAIR & MAKEUP

The right makeup can help to enhance your features and create a confident yet sophisticated look. Ladies should have some light makeup on — nothing too dramatic!

The focus of a portrait is often the eyes, so any eye makeup should be applied delicately. Neutral colours will work best. A rich lip colour can also amplify your look!

Let's talk about hair — for ladies with more length, a gentle blowout will add some volume to your hair. If you have short hair, take the time to comb and style it, keeping any flyaways in place.

For men and boys, you can use products like hair gel or hair spray to create a neat and polished appearance.
